HARGRAVE 97'
CAPRI FLYBRIDGE
'HOOTER PATROL IV'

'Hooter Patrol IV' defines comfortable luxury. The flush deck design creates an open and flowing main deck where the galley, the main saloon and the dining areas all blend together as a highly usable and appealing great room. Guests can intermingle and enjoy culinary delights and cocktails without having to seek out a waiter or wet bar. Everything is right at the guest's fingertips, including a top of the range Crestron entertainment system. The décor has a tropical undertone with touches of Hawaiian prints and island colours that nicely accentuate the striking sapele woods found throughout the vessel such as cherry, sapele, anigre, maple and birdseye. The use of variegated woods and bright colours is pleasing to the senses and beckons guests to sit and take it all in.

A staircase built into the curves of the main saloon leads down into the secluded and private master stateroom. This huge space has a unique style with magnetic colours of peridot green and pomegranate purple. Forward, the oversized his and her head integrates a natural slate marble stone that nicely accentuates the dramatic jewel tones found throughout. Four more staterooms can accommodate 8 more guests, each with an en-suite head.

The flybridge is well appreciated by the owners, a retractable sunshade permitting plenty of sunshine or starlight viewing. Aft of the large hot tub there is room for several built-in sun-loungers with adjustable backs, a pair of jet skis and a striking orange-coloured tender. Additional outdoor space is found on the airy aft deck where design is taken to a new level of sophistication. In the portside corner above a granite clad wet bar, a flat screen TV is built flush into the ceiling to be lowered at the touch of a button.

This yacht inspires new levels of relaxation and fun, with the result that no one leaves 'Hooter Patrol IV' without a smile on their face.
